

Have you had a cancer experience? You can help us.

Macmillan Cancer Support is running a project throughout 2023 to improve cancer support and information in East Sussex.

We are looking for more people to join our reference group. If you have or have had cancer yourself, or have been a carer for someone with cancer, we would love your help. Everyone is welcome.

All you need to do is attend a meeting once a month. You will help us shape service plans.

For more information about what meetings will be like, please contact Megan Preston:
